

MAKING MAGIC:

BEAUTY

IN WORD AND IMAGE

Enjoy the Exhibit After You Visit!

Take some beauty home with you by “making magic” with your cell phone! You can listen to the poets read their poems, then share your own thoughts on beauty as well as give us feedback on the exhibit. You can also hear an introductory greeting from Lisa Tremper Hanover, the Michener’s Director & CEO, then enjoy some additional reflections on beauty from Brian H. Peterson, the museum’s Gerry and Marguerite Lenfest Chief Curator. This audio experience is made possible with the assistance of OnCell.

To access the audio tour, dial 215-622-2009 and enter the stop number listed below.

The poets are listed alphabetically by their first names.

Lisa Tremper Hanover, Director & CEO, Introductory Greeting
Brian H. Peterson, exhibit curator, Why Beauty? –Prelude, stop 1
Bernadette McBride, Mother, stop 2
Christopher Bursk, Madonna with Child and Eight Angels–Botticelli–1478, stop 3
Connie Wrzesniewski, The Sweet Taste of Chocolate, stop 4
Diana L. Pazicky, Venus Redux, stop 5
Doris Ferleger, What I Mean by Beauty, stop 6
Eileen Flor, With Each Drop of Argan Oil, stop 7
Hayden Saunier, My Father Tells a Story About Beauty, stop 8
Joanne Leva, Looking Back on the Mountain, stop 9
Marylou Kelly Streznewski, Morning on Tohickon Creek, stop 10
Nancy Scott, Beauty Prepares Us for Justice, stop 11
Patricia Goodrich, There are things of which, stop 12
Sandra Becker, Sanctification of the Ordinary, stop 13
Sean Webb, The Audition, stop 14
Susan Charkes, Pech Merle: Negative Space, stop 15
Wendy Fulton Steginsky, On the Back of Velvet, stop 16
William Hollis, Beauty Stumbles, stop 17
Brian H. Peterson, exhibit curator, Why Beauty?–Postlude, stop 18

To continue the conversation about beauty, please use the Interactive Worksheets available in the central area of the gallery or online, or call 215-622-2009 and enter stop numbers 19 and 20.

To download a copy of this activity, visit Learn with the Michener at: www.learn.michenerartmuseum.org.

Or, to access the tour via your mobile phone, scan the QR code:

